Europe Expects No Help From Uncle Sam

Leon Bourgeois, president of the Council of the League of Nations, talking to American newspaper correspondents, said that Article X of the covenant of the League of Nations is not considered by European statesmen as a vital and essential element of the covenant.

M. Bourgeois said he had been surprised that this Article X had caused so much emotion in the United States. He stated that Article X could be eliminated without in any way modifying the effectiveness of the League of Nations.

"Article X," said M. Bourgeois, "is scarcely more than a moral background to the covenant. It is not considered so important by Europeans as by Americans."

"There is really no sanction or penalty in this article. All penalties provided for in the covenant in order to make the league's action effective are in other articles."

M. Bourgeois' statement was made in the course of an interview arranged for American correspondents by M. Comert, principal press official of the League of Nations. After M. Bourgeois had withdrawn the question was raised among Americans as to the effect of M. Bourgeois' utterances on the presidential election in the United States. It was thereupon mutually agreed to withhold the statement until M. Bourgeois could pass upon it as being issued with the fullest authority and approval.

M. Bourgeois was seen by M. Comert, who then told the correspondents he had explained to M. Bourgeois the importance of the remarks and requested M. Bourgeois to say whether he intended them to be published in the United States. M. Bourgeois replied, said M. Comert, that he understood the importance of what he was saying and was quite willing the interview should be printed.

M. Bourgeois, continuing the conversation and replying to questions regarding the prospect of revision of the covenant by the general assembly of the League of Nations, which meets at Geneva November 15, next, said:

"The Council of the League, being guardians of the Covenant, are of

MacSwiney Case Ends in Slow Death

Tedrence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, Ireland, who died at Brixton prison on the seventy-third day of his hunger strike early yesterday, was unconscious thirty-six hours before his death. Feverish interest developed there after his demise, and although that people appeared stirred to the highest degrees of bitterness it is regarded extremely improbable that there will be any disorderly demonstrations.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney, who was unconscious several days, did not recover his faculties before he died in prison. His private chaplain and brother, John MacSwiney, was with him when the end came. MacSwiney's wife and two sisters arrived at the prison several hours later. It is understood arrangements have been made to take the body to Ireland from the prison in London. It is probable an inquest will be held after which the body will be turned over to relatives. As soon as the news of MacSwiney's death spread small knots of people began moving toward the Brixton prison. The police, however, did not allow anyone to move into the streets leading to the prison entrance.

Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wheeler, of Lexington, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Wheeler Fearing, to A. V. Smith, Jr. The wedding took place in Shelbyville October 20th. Mrs. Smith is well known and popular in this city, having frequently been a guest in the home of her cousin, Mrs. Claude Dunavent.

TO OPEN STUDIO

Miss Dorothy Tyler, Mt. Sterling's gifted young artist, will open her studio in November at her home on Sycamore street. Miss Tyler's drawings and paintings, basketry and other work have been greatly admired, and as an instructor she has been very successful.

course unable to go before the assembly with any project that alters the Covenant, but individual states, which are members of the League, may, of course propose such amendments as they see fit."

Prominent Local Man Killed in Restaurant

Woodson Henry, was shot and instantly killed by Verne Jones, traveling salesman, while the former was at breakfast in the Greek restaurant early yesterday morning. According to Pete Zervas, proprietor of the place, young Henry had ordered breakfast and was seated at the counter when Jones entered the door and began firing. Eight shots were fired, four of which took effect, Henry falling to the floor and dying instantly. Jones went immediately to police headquarters and gave himself up.

The trouble came up, it is alleged, over Henry's attentions to Jones' wife, which caused a separation in the two families last July. Mrs. Jones has recently been living with her people near Danville, but came to this city several days ago. Jones hearing of it, came to Mt. Sterling and the killing resulted. Jones was until about two weeks ago traveling salesman for a Louisville hardware concern, but had resigned to accept a position in Ohio. When interviewed at the jail yesterday he declined to make any statement other than that Henry had broken up his home.

Young Henry was the son of Joe M. Henry, wealthy and prominent citizen of this county. Besides his parents he leaves a wife and two small children.

Funeral services for Mr. Henry will be held at the grave and burial in Machpelah cemetery tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Harvard Defeats Kentucky Eleven

Although the Centre College football eleven of Danville twice placed the pigskin behind Harvard's goal, they were defeated at Cambridge on Saturday in a very exciting game by the score of 31 to 14. This was the first time a Kentucky team had ever met a big Eastern team and the exhibition put up by the Colonels is being praised by football critics all over the land. Harvard was first to score, making a touchdown in the first five minutes of play, but after this the Kentuckians came back strong and scored two touchdowns without losing the ball, making the score stand 14 to 7. At this stage of the game the 400 loyal fans who had accompanied the team to Cambridge went wild over the prospects of victory, but their hopes were soon to be crushed, as the superior weight and training of the Easterners proved too great for the plucky Kentucky boys, and although handed their first defeat in two seasons, they were by no means disgraced, and their performance will stand out as one of the games in football annals for all time to come.

Wed in Lexington

Shirley Dalzell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Dalzell, Bourbon county, and well known in this city, and Miss Elizabeth Tarr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bennett Tarr, Paris, were married in Lexington Saturday afternoon. They left for an Eastern trip. Mr. Dalzell, a member of the American Expeditionary Forces, recently returned from overseas.

TAX PAYERS

The time limit on city taxes will be extended to December 1 at the next meeting of the City Council.

Sharpsburg Man Dies in Lexington

Charles F. Browning, of Sharpsburg, died at a hospital in Lexington Friday night, aged 64 years. Mr. Browning received an injury from an iron meat hook in his store at Sharpsburg, from which blood poison set up, resulting in death. He was one of Sharpsburg's enterprising citizens and most honorable men. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Carrie Bates, and one son, Albert S. Also a brother, John, of Ewing. Funeral took place at his late home in Sharpsburg.

Attention White Women

On Friday afternoon, October 29, all of Saturday, October 30, and Monday afternoon, November 1st, a committee of ladies will be in attendance at the County Court Room in Mt. "TRAIL OF LONESOME PINE"

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which appears at the Tabb Theatre Tuesday, November 2nd, is the story of big humans, big hearts and big purposes, beyond all the futile spirit of feudalism there is the blue in the skies canopied by the lonely rugged trees; the sweet spirit of June, and the iron-willed, masterful Judd.

A most elaborate production has been given Eugene Walter's dramatization of John Fox, Jr., widely read book, and those who love June in the romance will be more than charmed with Miss Louise Price's delightful presentation of the mountain heroine, who has already become enshrined in the hearts of a million book lovers.

Former Local Boys In Trouble in Ohio

A message received here last night by W. C. Hedrick stated that his son, Irvin Hedrick, had shot and seriously wounded Edward Bramblett on the streets of Middletown, Ohio, late yesterday afternoon. Both young men are former residents of this county and are well known here. It is said that the cause given for Hedrick's act is that Bramblett had followed his wife to the Ohio town and was trying to entice her away from her home. It is alleged that the Hedricks had been separated for some time as a result of Bramblett's attentions to the young woman, who is said to have left her husband last summer to go with Bramblett to Kentucky, taking with her, her six-months-old infant. Mrs. Hedrick was formerly Miss Ruby Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, of this county. Bramblett was still alive at a nearly hour this morning, but it is thought has little chance to recover.

Million Weddings, But Only 70,000 Homes

One million weddings were celebrated in the United States in 1919, but only 70,000 new homes were erected, F. Roger Miller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Macon, Ga., told the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries at Chicago in an address on "The Solution of the Housing Problem."

The United States is the only great nation in the civilized world that has ignored housing as a national problem, he said.

Kentucky State Plays Sewanee to Tie Score

In their annual game for supremacy at Lexington Saturday the University of Kentucky football eleven played the husky warriors from Sewanee to a 6 to 6 tie. The game was well played and kept the immense crowd on Stoll field thrilled during the entire performance.

Making the Most of Your Hair

Do you remember that girl we saw on the bathing beach last summer? The one with the beautiful hair we admired so much as she sat there drying it in the sun? Well, she ought always to leave it down her back. The other day I met her and hardly recognized her. She wore that beautiful hair drawn into a hard untidy knot, with the loose ends straggling over her ears, and I can assure no one would have looked at her twice.

But, if you want to see camouflage, her sister, who only has a short mop, reaching to her shoulders, can show it to you. That girl is forever laundering and brushing and waving that little fluffy wig of hers until it fairly snaps and gleams with life and vitality. When she wants to give it a rest from hot irons she dampens it and puts it in curling pins over night, and these she discretely covers with a boudoir cap, but she would as soon think of going out without her shoes on as of being seen with straight hair plastered close to the head or straggling loosely without a hair net.

The secret of beautiful hair is simple. Keep it clean. When you do wash it, be sure not to leave soap in the hair which rots it. See to it that your scalp is kept loose by massage if necessary. You would not expect a plant to put forth strong deep roots in a rocky soil would you? Well, the situation is the same when the scalp is thin and poorly nourished and clings to the bony structure of the skull.

As for washing the hair too frequently—that is an exploded theory. Some heads need it oftener than others, they are oilier, perspire more and the dust clings and cannot be removed by brushing. Wash your hair as often as you need it, and you will not suffer with dandruff, but—and this is important—be sure that every bit of soap is rinsed out of it. It is not the frequent washings, it is the soap left in your hair, which causes it to fall out. You cannot rinse it too thoroughly.

And any woman can fix her hair prettily nowadays if she only takes the trouble to curl it. This makes the hair look twice as thick and prevents the net from flattening it. The style of the moment is extremely simple—with only a small knot, or even the ends turned under. The head is made small and trim. Only remember that if you have a high forehead you must wear a fringe or your hair parted instead of brushed back plain.

The coiffure depends entirely for its beauty on the condition of the hair itself, whether it is glossy and well waved. This is in the power of every woman if she will take the time and trouble.

SEYMOUR IS SAVING.

Seymour, Mo., a town of 600 inhabitants, in Webster county, bought $100 worth of Government Savings Stamps during the month of September, according to reports from Carl Gorner, the postmaster at Seymour. Postmaster Gorner says he had a list of regular purchasers who are taking advantage of the Government's Thrift Campaign, and are laying the foundation for a savings fund that will reach respectable proportions in a short while.

A Beautiful, Long-lived Roof—Certain-teed Shingles

Certain-teed Asphalt Shingles, in subdued reds or greens, add an attractive touch to the appearance of any home. Their surface does not wear off, wash off or change color and they do not crack or break.

In addition to their beauty, they provide weather protection and are, at the same time, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

Their cost is low compared with other equally high grade types of roofing and they are guaranteed for ten years.

In addition to shingles, Certain-teed Roofing comes in rolls, mineral-surfaced red or green—much like the shingles in appearance—and also in the smooth surface staple gray kind.

Like all products bearing the Certain-teed label, Certain-teed Roofings are the highest quality.

See a Certain-teed dealer the next time you need roofing. He can help you select the best kind of roofing for your purposes and sell you what you need at a real saving in cost.

"How Well You Look"

When Your Blood Is Rich and Red
People Notice Your Good Health

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS IT

Pale Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping Shoulders, Result From Clogged Blood

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling. When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better—your lips are red, eyes wide open and bright; your good feeling shows in your actions.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, red blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with an appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for a while. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's". The full name "Gude's" Pepto-Mangan, should be on the package.—Advertisement.

BIGELOW BUYS STAMPS

Just as an indication of the manner in which Government Savings Stamps are still being sold, the work of W. E. Jones, postmaster at Bigelow, Ark., is cited for the month of September.

Postmaster Jones has written the Savings Division of the Treasury Department at St. Louis that his sales for September were 40 Savings Stamps of maturity value of $5 each, or $200. His sales also included 24 Thrift Stamps, valued at $6.

Postmaster Jones says this is only an average month's sale, and that during the approaching winter his sales will largely exceed this.

HOW CAN YOU?

How can an American of any political faith vote for a party with such a platform with sections that slap the boys in the face who won the world war?

The Republican Handbook not only fails to contain a single word of praise or appreciation of the glorious achievements of the American Army in France, but on the contrary it offers a gratuitous insult to the American service man.

The Republican campaign text book charges that the government lavished too many luxuries on the four million young Americans who saw service in the World War. It says "The per soldier per day expenditures for the United States it was estimated, was from four to six times the per soldier per day cost of France."

Every American soldier who saw service overseas knows how the French poilus lived. They received five cents a day while the American soldier got a dollar a day. It is the Republican party which thinks a dollar a day is too much. Furthermore, France did not have to transport four million men three thousand miles across the Atlantic, nor did they have to transport the supplies from the seaports to the interior as did the American Army.

Suppose it did cost from four to six times more per soldier per day to maintain the doughboy than the poilu. Wasn't it worth it? After paying their family allotment and their insurance the doughboy had little enough left with which to indulge in pleasure on the few leaves he enjoyed in France, but even the little seems to rankle in the breasts of the Republican campaign managers.

Carrying a horseshoe around in your hip pocket won't help you meet your expenses. Unless you sell the old shoe for scrap iron.

FALL PLANTING OF FRUIT TREES AND OTHERS

For those who are going to plant fruit trees this fall, it will be found that November is the time to do this fall planting. The holes should be dug of sufficient size to readily accommodate the roots of the young trees, fruits or others. They should be at least "8 inches square and 18 inches deep; side straight down and the bottom level. Place a little loose dirt in the bottom of the hole, and after the mangled and torn roots have been removed from the young tree, fine dirt should be placed around the roots and thoroughly packed, so as to make sure that the roots will not suffer from lack of moisture. Fill the hole up level, the middle being a little higher than the sides. The tree when properly set, should have the dirt come up about two inches higher than when it stood in the nursery row. This depth can be located by a ring of light bark found on the tree, showing where dirt come in nursery row. The advocates of fall planting claim that this gives the roots time to become established. However, there is this much to be said, that very often farmers can dig the holes in the fall and plant the trees in the spring. This will give very satisfactory results.

REPUBLICAN METHODS

The following editorial from the Albuquerque (New Mexico) Morning Journal, a Republican paper supporting Harding and Coolidge, proves Governor Cox's charge that the Republican campaign authorities are seeking to muzzle the press and to prevent the voters from hearing the Democratic side:

"We asked Governor Cox a half dozen questions yesterday morning. . . . He said we asked them graciously.

"He in turn asked us a question in a gracious and courteous manner. We are a god sportsman and will answer it. It was this:

"Did not two gentlemen named Headley and Smith, representing Will H. Hays, national Republican chairman, call upon you a few days before my arrival and ask you not to emphasize my welcome in New Mexico and to handle my meeting here as lightly as possible and to minimize its effect, and add that they were traveling ahead of me to interview Republican papers for that purpose?"

"Two men of such names did interview us and did so represent themselves. They did make such a request and such a statement.

"We refused their request; said any distinguished visitor to Albuquerque would receive a gracious reception from the Journal and the widest and fairest publicity, regardless of politics; that we believed in free and fair discussion, that we owed the national committee nothing and would conduct the Journal as we chose.

"Then they said, 'Of course you will, you misunderstand us.

"We are supporting Harding and Coolidge, but disapprove the methods of such over-zealous partisans."

Open Your Eyes!

Kentucky Men and Women, We Must Awake to the Danger that Confronts Our Homes and Our Country.

We must be rid of those who are gazing at the stars, and elect Americans whose feet are planted firmly on the soil of their native land.

It is not putting it too strongly to say that America is facing peril.

The waves stirred by the war have not receded. The whole world is in turmoil and trembles in uncertainty.

In America, industry, commerce and society are threatened by a wave of mental unrest.

High prices, business uncertainty, Bolshevism and even anarchy, disturb our people. We must get back to normal. Sane, sober thinking must take the place of reckless agitation.

In England, the storm has broken and the constitutional government is on trial for its life. This storm must not break in America.

Our big problem is to steer a straight course. All the brains, calm judgement, cool-headedness and fair dealing that America possesses must be called into play.

Since the signing of the armistice, the Democratic Administration has failed utterly to allay this spreading unrest. In fact, by its policy of weakness, it has destroyed the confidence of the people. It has demonstrated its inability to meet this crisis.

While this storm was growing in fury, the Democratic Administration was engaged in settling world problems, neglecting entirely the pressing danger to our own national life.

The Wilson League of Nations, an ephemeral dream as brought back from Paris, has consumed all of this Democratic Administration's time, all of its thought and action.

They have had no time for home affairs.

The business of this nation, the safety of our homes, the perpetuation even of our constitutional form of government must be put in the hands of men whose feet are planted firmly upon the soil of America, and whose eyes can see the dangers ahead, instead of scanning the heavens for new stars.

We are proud that our nation is the greatest democracy that the world has ever known. But this democracy is to be tried by a test more severe than war—a test that shall try our moral courage.

And we will stand this test because the heart of America is sound and the judgement of American men and women is safe.

We must elect a Republican administration that will call into service the strongest minds and stoutest hearts of our nation to help in guiding our course to safety.

ON THE RUN

From the paid advertisements which appear in the country press, evidences are given out that the Grand Old Party is on the run. The various misconstructions given by leading Republicans concerning the League of Nations, have proven themselves ineffective and the voters, whom they had hoped to hold in line, are deserting the party like rats leaving a sinking ship. Reports from doubtful states justify the declaration that not only will Governor Cox be elected president of the United States, but that the Senate will be Democratic also. Thousands of leaders, both men and women, are committing themselves to the Democratic organization, and the masses are making greater numbers, until it seems there will be a landslide to Governor Cox. Senator Beckham's victory in Kentucky by a large vote is the state's forecast, and the increasing League sentiment is growing by leaps. As it now appears Ohio will be in line for Governor Cox. Republicans everywhere are weakening. Indiana, Connecticut, Missouri, New Hampshire, Utah, California, New York and even Ohio, so recently claimed by Harding, has been weighed by traveling men, who know the pulse of the voters and now in the language of Dorsey Roberts there cannot be a Republican to cover his $5,000 cash on a wager. Democratic wave is sweeping the country and before election day men and women will like the excited horse, eager for the race at the word "go," rush for their ballots and end this most important of presidential elections by casting their votes for the election of Governor James M. Cox, one of the most deserving and competent nominees the United States of America ever put before the people for their earnest consideration.

"TRAIL OF LONESOME PINE"

The greatest of the season's productions, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" comes to the Tabb Theater Tuesday, November 2nd.

The dramatization of this widely read novel, which, as thousands of book reads know, is from the pen of John Fox, jr., the author of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," is by Eugene Walter, the clever dramatist, who has written such successful plays as "Paid in Full" and "The Easiest Way."

The production has a beautiful scenic mounting and it met with capacity greetings in long runs in Boston, New York and Chicago. From all accounts the play is as delightful as the book, for the beauty of the book has been redoubled on the stage.

The strong New York company portrays the stirring scenes of the book in a delightful manner.

Wildcats Play Vanderbilt Saturday

On Saturday, October 30, the University of Kentucky "Wildcats" will invade Dudley Field, den of the Vanderbilt University "Commodores" and meet their worthy Southern neighbors in the annual struggle for football honors.

Football "dope" in regard to the Wildcats and the Commodores is in favor of neither eleven. The Tennessee aggregation, laboring under the heavier schedule, has won only one of its games and has lost the other two. Kentucky walked away with the bacon when two of her opponents entered her own backyard, lost the day when she visited Miami, and tied with her old rival last week.

The results of the present season for the Commodores have been: University of Tennessee 0, Vanderbilt 20; Georgia Tech 44, Vanderbilt 0; Auburn 56, Vanderbilt 6. The Wildcat tally reads: Southwestern Presbyterian University 0, Kentucky 61; Maryville College 0, Kentucky 31; Miami University 14, Kentucky 0; Sewanee 6, Kentucky 6.

Followers of football fortunes will remember that the McGuginites from Nashville last year battled to a scoreless tie with the Juneau-less Wildcats on Stoll Field. Now the question is: What will the rejuvenated Wildcats under the guidance of "Injun Bill Juneau" do in Nashville Saturday.

Just what the Auburn whirlwind left in the way of physical wrecks in the Commodore camp is not known, whether the Vandy boys have entirely recovered from the effects of the Tech walk-over. Thereon will rest the prophecy as to the results of the forthcoming battle between the leading institutions of the sister states.

Kentucky is handicapped by a crippled backfield. Fuller, star halfback, was barely in condition for the Sewanee game, and Shanklin, the other regular halfback, was suffering from injuries of so serious nature that he did not even appear at the Sewanee game in uniform, and Pribble, the big fullback who won the admiration of all who saw him plunge through the Tiger line last Saturday for the touchdown that tied the score, emerged from the pile of humanity just back of the Sewanee goal with a broken bone in his foot, and will probably be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

The battle on Dudley Field Saturday will equal in interest any of the meetings of the Wildcats and the Commodores during the old days when "Doe" Rodes pitted his skill and ability with the pigskin against the incomparable "Rabbit" Curry. Will the Vanderbilt that in 1912 held Brickley's Harvard eleven to a 9 to 3 score, or that held Yale in 1910 to a 0 to 0 tally, allow the Wildcats to romp over them rough shod?

The elevens that will meet in Nashville Saturday are:

Kentucky—Rice, Server, Ramsey, Fest, Colpitts, Murphee, Heber, Lavin, Wilhelm, Fuller, Whaley.

Vanderbilt—Neal, Hendricks, Hill, Buchner, Baker, McCullough, Bailey, Latham, Floyd, Neilly, Wade.

W. C. Hedrick and John Hedrick left last night by automobile for Middletown, Ohio.

The honey isn't always worth the alimony.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR MOST SUITABLE SLOGAN

Much interest is being shown in the securing of a slogan to be used by the Mt. Sterling Chamber of Commerce for the advertising of this city and county. The prize of a year's subscription to the Lexington Leader and the Mt. Sterling Advocate will be given to the person sending in the best slogan, and the Publicity Committee from the Chamber of Commerce will act as judges. Send in your answer now and win these prizes that are worth while. Everybody is eligible to enter the contest, and you may be the lucky one.

Always With the Best

Messrs Glenn and Jacobs, of Lexington, Ky., Army Goods Headquarters, were here yesterday and rented of Judge H. Clay McKee his large storeroom No. 29, on South Bank street, opposite the Ford garage, in which to open with a complete stock of Army good on November 6th. These men will be provided with a large stock and the people of this section will have an opportunity to get the very best in quality at, as they advertise, one-third their real values.

The Chamber of Commerce takes unto itself the credit of adding this business to Mt. Sterling, for their efforts have already gone forth and Mt. Sterling is beginning to be known as the best business city to the squarefoot of any city in the South.

TO THE DEMOCRACY OF KY:

The National Democratic Headquarters is imperatively in need of funds with which to finance the present campaign and has appealed to me to offer an opportunity to the Democrats to aid. This I am pleased to do. Every voter, man or woman, who earnestly desires the election of our ticket is requested to give without delay to the Editor of this paper, who will immediately forward it to John R. Downing, State Treasurer for National Committee, Citizens' Union National Bank, Louisville, such voluntary contribution as he or she may care to make. Same will be forwarded promptly to National Headquarters in New York, with name of donor. Contributions, no matter how small, will be accepted and appreciated.

A hearty response to this call is confidently expected.

COX THE PROGRESSIVE

There were no followers of Mr. Roosevelt in 1912 more sincere and zealous than Mr. Ickes, Bainbridge Colby, Matthew Hale, John M. Parker, Judge Ben Lindsay, Francis J. Heney and George Rublee. The fact that they are all with the Democrats as against Harding this year indicates the choice that true progressives must make as between the Democratic and Republican candidates.

Mr. Harding's election could not possibly promote progressive causes. Governor Cox is pre-eminently the more progressive of the two candidates. His record as Governor of Ohio is the record of a progressive or it is nothing. And no one can dismiss as negligible Ohio's laws for the protection of women and children in industry, for workingmen's insurance, for the protection of widows and orphans, for the protection of workers' health, prison reform, school reform and budget reform.

There is no possible doubt about the prospects of progressivism. If the country wants reaction it won't elect Cox. If it wants progressivism Cox and he alone, can fill the bill.

And a lot of people never would have got to the front if other people hadn't kicked them in the rear.

There are times when you wish they would quit muzzling the dogs and begin muzzling the men.

THE GREAT ISSUE

(The New York Times)

It is the greatest presidential campaign within the memory of man, the issues are incomparably great. The future of the world, the well-being of all mankind, the deliverance of people and of nations from the dangers that visibly beset them—these are the issues of this contest. The callous recklessness with which the Republicans are carrying on the campaign is amazing, it is appalling. In the blindness of their partisanship they appear to give no thought to the consequences of policies which they every day proclaim as the purpose of their party. Europe sees and understands what it all means. The Republicans would keep us out of the League of Nations; all that their representative men and their candidate propose as a substitute is some kind of an "association" as yet not formulated in words and utterly incapable of realization. They would exclude us from the benefits of the peace treaty, and their candidate puts forward in its place a mere resolution declaring war is at an end, a method of restoring peace which minds better informed than his would instantly reject as preposterous. They even talk of tariff duties to "exclude the flood of foreign goods," which is equivalent to depriving our debtors of the only means of paying their obligations. Dr. Vissering, of the Netherlands Bank, pointed out at the financial conference in Brussels the consequences of the policies of isolation and selfishness which the Republicans are preaching. Those consequences would fall not only upon the European nations; they would fall heavily upon us. In their denunciation of the administration of the peace treaty of the League Covenant of all the great works in which Mr. Wilson has been engaged, the Republicans have let themselves be betrayed into declarations of policy which would bring political, social and financial ruin to other nations, for which we profess friendship. We cannot believe that they understand what they are doing, for it is certain that the normal, human mind could not deliberately intend such consequences.

The campaign draws to its close. The Republicans are jubilantly confident, the Democrats are justly apprehensive. Yet the whole course and outlook of the campaign could be changed, would be changed, if the Democrats could get the truth into the public mind, could make the people understand the immeasurable importance of the issues involved. Four years ago, in September, Mr. Wilson was as surely beaten as the Republicans now believe Mr. Cox to be beaten. Victory came to him through later changes in the political situation. Such changes may yet be wrought in this campaign. The Democrats should have in the field a dozen speakers where they now have one; and every one of their orators should be equipped for the task and capable of the task of telling the plain truth about the League of Nations. Democrats of means who are interested in the success of the campaign should see to it that the committee has funds to clear the public mind of the delusions, misrepresentations and falsehoods, systematically spread abroad by the campaigners in behalf of Mr. Harding.

The question remains, will policy win over truth?

Every married man has a fool streak in his make-up that makes him feel like risking the loss of the woman who means everything to him by fooling around some stranger who means nothing to him.

A subscriber writes to inquire as what is the best thing for a farmer to do if his cows become unreasonable. Our humble advice is to leave the farm.

475 ACRES

The Farm of Wilburn Berry, Bath County

AT AUCTION

Saturday, October 30th, ^{TEN} O'CLOCK

2 1/2 miles from Sharpsburg, 10 miles from Carlisle, 14 miles from Mt. Sterling. On Maysville to Mt. Sterling pike, a designated Federal Highway to be maintained by the Government, construction started.

This farm has been owned by Mr. Berry for 40 years and has never been on the market for sale. Been used as a stock farm, and is ready right now to cultivate and raise the maximum of crops of all kinds.

It will be subdivided and sold to the "High Dollar" in 4 tracts, a tract of 50 acres unimproved—a tract of 100 acres with tenant house and tobacco barn and all in blue grass sod—a tract of 150 to 200 acres with improvements and another tract without improvements. Remember we sell to suit the purchasers. Will sell you just the number of acres you want. Will either sell two or more tracts together or divide any tract.

IMPROVEMENTS—Seven-room brick house, hall and two porches, 3 tenant houses, 4 tobacco barns, stock barn, concrete silo, cribs for 1,500 barrels of corn—can house 40 acres of tobacco. One of the finest watered farms anywhere.

Land is level and gently rolling—very fertile limestone soil. 40 acres in cultivation, 30 acres wheat stubble, balance in grass, of which there are 250 acres of fine blue grass sod. Located in good neighborhood, only 2 1/2 miles from Sharpsburg, that good town of 600 population with 2 banks—one of the finest graded schools in the state, 5 churches, a splendid business place in a section of good pikes.

It is sure a "Safe Bet" to buy this land, either for a home or as an investment to make a big percent on your money. Now is the time to buy land. Attend this sale and we will tell you and convince you why. Mr. Berry is unable to look after this farm, therefore, he has directed us to sell.

LISTEN—Don't miss this opportunity. Investigate this property is all we ask. More rich fertile soil ready for corn, hemp and tobacco on this farm than any you will find in several counties. This farm will be under the hammer to sell and we guarantee no by-bids and a fair business treatment to all. See how we conduct our sales and you will know why we sell more real estate than any other real estate men in Kentucky.

Mr. Wilson, on the farm, will show it to you, or inquire of Mr. T. E. Adams, at Citizens Bank, at Sharpsburg, or see P. W. Berry, at his other farm, where he lives on same pike near this farm.

The farm will be sold on very easy terms and for possession March 1st, 1921.

For further particulars, get in touch with our "Real Estate Headquarters" at Danville, or Lancaster, Kentucky.

VOTE WITH YOUR COLOR

What is the Republican party in Kentucky, void of the negro vote? They are in that party, the balance of power and of necessity pre-emptive. An object lesson:

There are 46,159 white Democrats in Louisville, as against 30,309 white Republicans. The latter party gained its majority in Louisville by registering 24,693 negroes, the majority of which were women. These figures were published by the City Democratic Headquarters, which showed that of 112,353 registered voters, 63 negroes registered Democratic. The Republicans enrolled 24,693. There were even more Independent negroes in Louisville than there are Democratic, as 283 were registered Independent.

Had the colored women not registered in Louisville the Democrats would have had a majority of over three thousand, and had neither colored men nor women registered, the Democrats would have had a majority of fifteen thousand. It is plain to see that the negro holds the balance of power in Louisville.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

SHE FORGOT; OR SHE FLOPPED—WHICH!

Our campaign women, in their public utterance, are effective in their remarks regarding ex-Governor Bradley's daughter in her stump speech utterances. Here is the good woman's committal:

High praise for the leader of the Democrats for the past eight years has come from the pen of two Republican leaders. Mrs. Christine Bradley South, of Frankfort, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Ohio, have signed an endorsement giving Woodrow Wilson credit for achieving the triumph of the "votes for women" cause.

The endorsement to which Mrs. South has signed her name reads: "Today Woodrow Wilson stands forth before the nations of the world as the commanding force for justice and a world democracy. He goes now to perfect that which has been baptized with the fire of the battle and sealed with a covenant of blood—a world-wide democracy, a democracy in truth of all the people."

Senator Harding reiterates that the League of Nations has been abandoned by Europe, but the General Secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America, who has just returned from a series of religious conferences in Europe, which took him to many cities on the Continent, says that Europe's faith in the League of Nations has not waned. The people there, he says, look hopefully to the entrance of the United States to give the League the capstone of success and, meanwhile, are working energetically on their own problems.

A Liberty Bond of any issue is, of course, at present prices a materially better investment than was any Liberty Bond, bought at par during the war.—Providence Evening Tribune.

The Advocate, twice a week.

DISCIPLINE

By Margaret Steele Hard

Not long ago I was startled to hear a small neighbor remark to my equally small daughter, "I don't think father and mother are very good parents. Father's too severe and mother's too easy."

The whole matter of discipline seems to have been put in a nutshell by this youthful judge; for as one observes parents, he discovers that they are generally of one of these types.

The severe parent is perhaps less prevalent. His severity is born either of fundamental misconceptions regarding children and their needs, of selfish desire to restrain and curb, so that his own freedom may suffer no annoyance or inconvenience; or most deplorable of all, it is the result of his own ill-temper.

Let us illustrate these types of severity. First, the child who is denied some harmless pleasure, for example.

"Mary, don't get water in that teapot! I can't have you dripping water all over the house. What? Well, pretend there's water in it—it's just as good." But it isn't, as any little girl with a teapot can tell you.

Contrast this severity which is caused by lack of imagination and sympathy on the part of the parent with the severity of the second variety, that which is selfish in its origin.

"Ellen, stop romping, and behave like a lady!" But Ellen is ten and should not be asked to be a lady. In fact, no one would be more distressed than her mother should the child suddenly arrive at that stage of maturity. It is simply that her mother is disturbed by her activity.

And lastly, consider the exhibition of infuriated parenthood, from which we turn our eyes as from unspeakable shame.

"Come here this instant, or I'll give you such a whipping you'll never forget it! Stop that yelling, do you hear? Stop that yelling!" and the admonishing voice of the irritable parent reaches a scream as he slaps and jerks about the frightened child.

The opposite extreme of the deplorable uncontrolled parent is the "easy parent" who is generally the mother. She suffers from shortsightedness. She seems to forget that in a short time her boy or girl must live in a world that will not so readily excuse and cajole as she; that Sarah's whims and Richard's petulance will not be looked upon by the general public as odd, little outshoots of human nature; but as the weeds, pure and simple. Nor does she seem to realize that faults in a little child, steadily nurtured, instead of being outgrown, become in growing!

"Sarah, what can mother get for you—don't you like your dinner dear?" and mother, weary after preparing the family meal, snatches a bite here and there between trips to and from the pantry as she brings such food as Sarah's whims demand, while Sarah watches with sly eye, fully aware of her power.

What conclusion does one gain from observing parents with their children? That the indispensable qualities for parenthood are under standing sympathy coupled with firmness. Not uncontrolled demands for obedience, not sudden spasms of discipline, but steadfast reasonableness which creates confidence and love when it goes hand in hand with an eager desire to live understandingly in the child's world.

For, after all, discipline is very much like a salad. Its perfection depends upon the proper combination of ingredients, given in right proportions. There must be sufficient oil to assist in soothing too severe a tang of vinegar, but not enough to neutralize, just a dash of pepper and mustard, and finally, the hand which mixes it with the tender green—that is the touch of personality which perfects it.

When men feel themselves slipping they usually reform.

STILL THEY BOLT

Nothing seems able to stop the bolting of Republicans in favor of the League of Nations. They realize that their hope is futile if Warren G. Harding is elected. Two prominent Kentuckians who bolted the Republicans yesterday were Cale Young Rice, poet, and his wife, Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, noted author of Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch. Both favored the nomination of Herbert Hoover, of the Chicago convention, but declare that they cannot follow Harding because they are heart and soul for the League of Nations.

Another defection from the Republican ranks is Gardiner J. Doig, founder of the Lincoln Club, a Republican organization which gives a dinner in honor of Abraham Lincoln each February 12th in Louisville. Doig says "no working man with his eyes open can vote for Mr. Harding. I regard the Republican attitude not so much against the League of Nations as against a league of working peoples."

Several hundred Southern railroad shopmen at Somerset dropped their tools last week and held an impromptu demonstration for Governor James M. Cox. "We are for Jimmy Cox, the friend of the working man," said large banners, borne by the shop men, who marched through the streets to the courthouse to hear Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart and Congressman Aswell, of Alabama. The fact that this occurred in a Republican county is highly significant of the sentiment of the entire state.

Evidence that Governor Cox has profoundly stirred the West continues to crop out, notably the coming over to his support of former Republican papers and ministers of the gospel of Republican affiliation. Every day some accession of this kind is noted in the news. Nor is all the Democratic gain confined to the West; the East is showing a strong drift toward Cox as the issues of the campaign become clearer and more widely known.

One thousand newsboys paraded the streets of Dayton in honor of the presidential nominee of the Democratic party. The newsies carried banners. One bore the following inscription: "We deliver the goods—so does Jimmy." This must have jarred dear little Warren G.

WHY HIS SILENCE?

On the first day's trip of the Republican Governor's special through-out Kentucky, Governor Calvin Coolidge, of Massachusetts, made 14 speeches. In none of the fourteen did he refer to the League of Nations. There is a reason. Governor Coolidge is tied to the League of Nations by the speech of welcome he made to President Wilson when the latter returned from France with the Peace Treaty in his pocket.

Mr. Coolidge admitted that he has not mentioned the League of Nations since he had made a speech early in the campaign in Maine. It seems that this speaking campaign is not to the taste of the Massachusetts governor. He does not associate with the men on the train with him and seems to find speech-making a very burdensome task.

"The Rats Around My Place Were Wise," Says John Tuthill

"Tried everything to kill them. Mixed poison with meat, meal, cheese, etc. Wouldn't touch it. Tried RAT-SNAP, inside of ten days got rid of all rats." You don't have to mix RAT-SNAP with food. Saves fussing, bother. Break a cake of RAT-SNAP, lay it where rats scamper. You will see no more. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Chenaunt and Orear.

In a last desperate effort to cor-rell all the pro-German vote in Kentucky the Republicans have booked
Albert Jeremiah Beveridge, former United States Senator of Indiana, who will speak at Phoenix Hill next Monday night. Beveridge is noted principally for his defense of Kaiser
William II after the United States had gone to war. He wrote a book entitled "What is Behind the Great War," which satisfied the most ardent of pro-Germans. He is doubtless the proper personage to appeal to the disloyalists in Louisville.

Somehow we should hate to have the sort of religion which makes one feel bad about everything.

PRODUCE REPORT

Strictly fresh eggs are in good demand, but the bulk of eggs now arriving have been "held" and are not bringing top prices.

Storage eggs are being withdrawn for current use, as is usual at this time of the year.

The butter market has ruled lower during the week, and this has been reflected in country prices paid for butter-fat. An increased production of butter, nearly 20 per cent greater than this time last year, with lighter exports, is responsible for this situation.

Poultry values show little change. The movement continues heavy, with prospects of large supplies to come during the next few weeks. Poultry plants have sufficient help to take care of average receipts, but any sudden, large increase in receipts would make it difficult to handle the situation. Even marketing is therefore suggested.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Standard Torpedo Company, Incorporated, of Mt. Sterling, Kentucky, has been dissolved and is closing up its business.

REMARKABLE PROFIT

William J. Manby, Jr., one of the members of the boys' and girls' dairy calf club, LaGrange, Ky., bought a Holstein dairy heifer for $200. Young Manby Jr. made his purchase last spring. After he had kept his heifer for about two months they held a show, all the members of the club, 13, competing. Mr. Manby won first prize for his heifer and the attention of Mr. Shinkle, Jefferson, Wisconsin, was attracted to this particular animal. Upon investigation it was found that this Holstein heifer had excellent breeding and Mr. Shinkle offered young Manby $800 for the heifer that he had paid $200 for about two months previous. Manby refused this offer and Mr. Shinkle came back with an offer of $1,000. This, Manby accepted, making him $800 profit in approximately two months' time.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

Did we have a good meeting on the 21st? I'll say we did—the largest yet. Plenty of pep. A "sho-nuff" meeting, and we've only started.

—C-of-C—

"Riley" Sharp, our efficient secretary, is in Chicago this week attending the big national gathering of commercial secretaries. We are expecting him home loaded down with good ideas and anticipate his return with much interest.

—C-of-C—

Capt. C. H. Petry, of the Transportation Committee, is going to Frankfort on November 8th to appear before the Railroad Commission of Kentucky in the matter of freight rates into Mt. Sterling.

—C-of-C—

The Events and Publicity Committees, under direction of Organizational Affairs, C. B. Patterson, have all been assigned their various duties in connection with the "big feed" on November 4th and if you, for any reason, are not "among those present" you will miss one of the biggest and most interesting business meetings ever pulled off in Mt. Sterling.

—C-of-C—

Send in your slogan for the Chamber of Commerce. For the one selected there is a year's subscription to the Lexington Leader and the Mt. Sterling Advocate. As we are bidders for the trade East of us principally—trade which at times goes through Mt. Sterling to Winchester, Lexington, why wouldn't "They Shall Not Pass" be suitable? meaning to make our town so attractive to them that they wouldn't WANT to go through or "pass" but "Buy it in Mt. Sterling." Send in yours.

—C-of-C—

Our membership at our last meeting was 149; since that time three or four new ones; 20 promised at the lunch on the 21st to bring a new member for the next lunch and with a campaign put on by the Membership Committee we should total at least 200 by January 1st.

—C-of-C—

The Publicity Committee is arranging for some amusing stunts for the "big feed" night and a program—Well, wait, wait a little longer and you'll find out—that is, if you are there that night.

—C-of-C—

Send in some suggestions for the wording on the sign we propose to erect at the station; we want a "Welcome" sign facing the train and a "Trade at Home" sign for those leaving town. Come on—be a good fellow and help us; make a suggestion!

—C-of-C—

Last week was a busy one for the Chamber of Commerce; two meetings of the Board of Directors, our lunch on Thursday and two meetings of the Events and Publicity

Publicity Committees. When our business men making up these committees will continue to give their time and attention to the work there is no doubt in the world but what Mt. Sterling will always hold its reputation as The Best Town in Eastern and Central Kentucky.

BABY GIRL DIES

Mrs. Jennie Thompson was notified the latter part of the past week of the death of the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thweatt in Andalusia, Ala. Mrs. Thweatt was formerly Miss Jean Kendall, of this city, and her many friends here are deeply grieved to hear of her bereavement.

ADVANCE AGENT HERE

William Tharp, of New York, advance agent for "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," was in town today completing arrangements for that play, which will be staged at the Tabb Theatre, Tuesday, November 2nd.

As a general thing, when a girl is suffering from a broken heart, there's no use in sending for the doctor, unless he is young and good-looking and a bachelor.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who had to have a clove or a coffee bean for a chaser?
